1. WRITTEN SUMMARY

Sample:

Henry Haggerty
District Construction Engineer
Department of Transportation, Lake City

During his two decades of state employment, Henry Haggerty has nominated 38 individuals, teams and work units for Prudential Financial - Davis Productivity Awards recognition.

Leading a highway and bridge construction program in an 18-county area that has expanded from $80 to $500 million while reducing state personnel, Mr. Haggerty works hard to make the system better and welcomes opportunities to acknowledge employees who go above and beyond in their effort to assist in this quest. Under his leadership, many of the district's processes have been converted from paper to electronic documents. Additional cost reductions have been achieved by converting state testing and inspection to contractor quality control. For more information, please contact Donna Higgs at (386) 961-7543 or donna.higgs@dot.state.fl.us.

Please draft your response, including contact information and added value data, as formatted above. Do not use program or agency acronyms or abbreviations without explanation. Any additional information you wish to provide should be included in question #3.

2. SPEAKING SUMMARY

Signature of Nominator

5. MANAGER'S EVALUATION AND COMMENT

A bureau chief or higher-level manager (NOT THE NOMINATOR) who can verify the nominee's achievement is required to supply the following:

The nominee's achievement deserves an award for the following reason(s):

Sample:

Lisa Hopkins has been a member of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement for 20 years. Since 1996, she has submitted 14 nominations for Davis Productivity Awards which resulted in recognition for 490 individuals.

In conjunction with responsibility for strategic and operational information technology planning for FDLE, she has taken the lead role in producing Davis Productivity Award nominations.

It is often said that if you want something done, ask a busy person! Ms. Hopkins is a busy person who gets things done and done well. While writing three awards nominations for 2007, she was also the primary coordinator for the 2006 International Association of Law Enforcement Planners annual conference in Newport, Rhode Island. Her Davis Awards nomination for implementation of the Jessica Lunsford Act won "Project of the Year" at the conference.
